UNIVERSITY OF THE PHILIPPINES – LOS BAÑOS ENGINEERING SOCIETY

College of Engineering and Agro-Industrial Technology

✉ uplb.engsoc@gmail.com

10 September 2025

Dear Sir/Madam,

Greetings!

The UPLB Engineering Society (UPLB EngSoc) is a duly recognized academic organization of students from different engineering disciplines within the College of Engineering and Agro-Industrial Technology at the University of the Philippines Los Baños. One of its objectives is to promote the significance and importance of engineering and technology in society.

To carry on our pursuit of advancing engineering and technology, the organization is once again set to host Ingenium 2026, a National Inter-Senior High School STEM Convention with the theme Lifelong Learning in Engineering: Adapting, Innovating, and Leading Beyond Boundaries, on February 21, 2026. This event intends to inspire and motivate young learners to continuously seek knowledge in order to adapt to changes, innovate solutions, and lead the nation to a sustainable future.

We kindly request your endorsement, which would significantly enhance the credibility of this event and strengthen the impact we aim to create through this initiative. We would also like to request your assistance in connecting with students and teachers who have a passion for STEM. With your support, we aim to build a community dedicated to scientific innovation and promoting global sustainability. Registration ends on January 17, 2026.

Should you agree to provide your endorsement, we would be honored to feature it in our promotional materials on social media and letters of invitation. We are open to any specific format or message you would like us to use. Attached is the official primer of the event for your reference.

We are looking forward to your participation in this event. Please do not hesitate to contact us at ingenium.uplb.engsoc@gmail.com or in the same email thread should you need further details regarding this request.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
